Along the demilitarized zone, American Marines uncovered two mass graves containing 48 North Vietnamese bodies. Earlier this week the Marines had found similar graves containing about 170 dead North Vietnamese, most of them casualties of artillery and air strikes.

U.S. headquarters also reported lesser actions on the northern frontier, where the U.S. Marines continued to probe the south central sector of the demilitarized zone and adjacent territory to the south.

In the last three weeks and mostly in the last few days, the Marines have captured a million rounds of small arms ammunition, 20,000 mortar shells, 7,000 grenades, nearly 4,000 rockets and rocket grenades and six tons of explosives along the DMZ, Marine headquarters said.

What to Do About Middle Age? Enjoy It, Opines Hal Boyle

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Middle age is something like the weather—or the state of the Union. Everybody talks about it, but very few do much about it but criticize.

This is very odd because, in the case of middle age at least, something positive can be done about it. For one thing, it can be enjoyed.

There is no particular reason for regarding middle age as a burdensome doom inflicted by a vengeful fate. Taken gradually and in small doses, it can be as helpful as any other medicine.

What possible advantages does middle age have? Well, here are a few:

More than at any other time of life, your feet feel so wonderful when you take your shoes off at the end of the day.

Acne is no longer your biggest social worry.

It is no longer necessary for you to develop new prejudices; the ones you have already acquired will do you nicely the rest of the way.

Of course, you can still risk your neck going skiing if you choose to, but you can get most of the exercise you want merely by pushing yourself away from the table and putting on and taking off your bifocals.

Uncle Sam no longer wants you for the battlefield, but your wife still rather likes to have you around on the home front.

Your over-all health improves as your stomach is now too bad to let you indulge in the wild drinking and eating habits of your youth.

No one expects you to set the world on fire, as they can see at a glance that you're getting short of matches.

There is now a reasonable possibility that you'll finally pay off the mortgage on your home before the roof caves in.

It is about as much fun studying travel folders and reading about faroff places as it would be to visit them—and you escape the nuisance of having to pack, go through customs and worry about how much to tip the natives.

Anytime anything excites you too much you know that if you simply take a couple of aspirin tablets and lie down for a while the feeling will soon pass away.

Girls watching remains a pleasant pastime, but is no longer an industry with a man. He can indulge in this popular hobby and stay an innocent bystander.

Fewer things upset you by catching you completely by surprise. You are wise enough to have learned that in life anything can happen—and sooner or later will. Experience has become a cushion that softens most blows.

Life brings an intenser delight in small occurrences—meeting an old buddy unexpectedly, growing a bigger tomato in your garden than a neighbor can, quietly adding another beautiful sunset to your mental memory book.

Finally, the biggest bonus that middle age brings is a capacity to be grateful—a gratitude for being able to share in the great mystery of life itself, which unknown youth so crassly takes for granted.

cialists went ahead with preparations for the Olympic Games, scheduled to open in Mexico City on Oct. 12.

Throughout the day Tuesday sirens wailed and shots could be heard as police sought out snipers who, after a bloody night of fighting around vocational schools in the northwest part of the city, holed up in apartment houses in the area.

Firing increased shortly before night fell, and a magazine reporter on the scene said two students were killed at a vocational school in the downtown Cuadela section.

At another vocational school in the Tlatelolco area, the scene of heavy fighting Saturday and Monday nights, three buses were burned and police in possession of the school drove back 2,500 students by firing into the air and shooting tear gas into the crowds.

There were also reports of isolated shooting incidents in other parts of the city.

The student unrest, which has plagued Mexico's capital since July 26 and threatens to cut attendance at the Olympics, has been attributed to violation of the right of university autonomy, police brutality, hooliganism, Communist influences and determination to gain certain concessions from the government.

The autonomy issue was pushed to the forefront last week when the government ordered the army to occupy the University of Mexico, near the Olympic village where 2,000 athletes already are preparing for the games.

The first international yacht race took place Aug. 22, 1851, with the yacht America outracing the British yacht Aurora.

3rd Night of Violence in Syracuse

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — A white policeman and a television cameraman were assaulted and several motorists injured Tuesday as disturbances erupted for the third straight day.

No arrests were reported in a two-hour flareup Tuesday night in a predominantly Negro section of the city's South Side, an area plagued by disturbances Sunday and Monday nights and for several nights two weeks ago.

The policeman, plainclothesman Joseph Brigandi, was attacked during the day outside a court house where arraignment proceedings were being held for seven youths arrested Monday night.

Brigandi, assigned to watch about 40 youths who had gathered outside the building, was attacked after one shouted: "There's a cop."

About eight of them, Brigandi said, swept down on him, kicking and punching.

The 39-year-old policeman, who was carrying a gun but did not draw it, warded off his attackers by throwing a weighted traffic sign at the group and escaped by jumping over a fence.

At the same time, Frank E. Rossi, a cameraman for television station WHEN, was shoved against the side of a building while he attempted to film the attack.

Both men suffered bruises of the face and body but did not require hospitalization.

None of the youths involved in the two attacks was arrested.

Later in the night, police sealed off a 10-block area at the south side after gangs of youths hurled garbage cans onto cars from atop buildings, turned over cars and set several of them afire.

Four persons—including two Syracuse University students and a doctor on his way to a hospital—were injured when bottles were hurled at their automobiles, some smashing through the window glass.

street records which have been destroyed," he said, "But it takes an enormous amount of work and the cost to the taxpayers is terrific."

He said there was no way to estimate the total damage.

The 14 were held in bond ranging from $25,000 to $30,000. All were charged with arson, burglary and criminal damage to property.

An additional charge of theft was lodged against two of the 14 for allegedly snatching a key to the draft board office from a cleaning woman. The raid was staged just after the office closed for the day.

Police Sgt. Fred Stein said the demonstrators, most of them Catholic pacifists, "overpowered a cleaning woman, took away her keys, opened the door, came out with the records and burned them."

One man jumped out of a panel truck parked by the park and doused the bags with an inflammable liquid, which the protesters said was "homemade napalm."

WYNNE, Ark. (AP) — Congress and the country has gradually become aware of the need for a greater contribution of the nation's resources to education, Sen. J. W. Fulbright said here Tuesday.

In comparison to other activities, he said, such as building roads and "most certainly the building of military machines, the effort going into education is relatively small."

Fulbright said the growing attention to education was evidenced in Arkansas, where there are better facilities and "we're gradually improving them."

SHOULD WIFE SPANK HUSBAND?

Dear Helen: If a wife acts like a child, men seem to applaud the husband who takes her over his knee and spanks her. This especially if he has quietly suffered her outbursts for a longtime.

So what if the roles are reversed? When my husband doesn't get his own way, he slams things, stamps and hollers, and - listen to this - he even throws himself on the floor and puts on a real tantrum, pounding his fists and kicking and screaming. He isn't "mental," Helen. Just spoiled rotten by a mama who gave him everything if he howled loud enough. Funny, he doesn't do this at work, only at home.

I'm so embarrassed by his actions, wondering if the neighbors will hear him, that I give in to keep him quiet. What do I do? - LOSER BY A SCREAM

Dear LBAS: I'd throw a bucket of cold water on the tantrum-tosser and walk out. If this doesn't break him, you've got a bigger problem than you think, and you'd better consult a psychologist. - H

Dear Helen: Divorce is the great cleanser. First you air your dirty linen. Then you get taken to the cleaners - and it leaves no ring! - DENNIS THE PHILOSOPHER

Dear Dennis: Yup. And it also leaves you "all washed out" or "up!" - H

Dear Helen: My wife died recently, at the age of 28. She left me with four children, a girl, seven, a boy, eight, and twin sons aged three months.

How do I get started again? Everything I do, everywhere I go, I think about my wife. I miss her so much I can't sleep or eat. People say I should look for someone to replace her, as it isn't fair to the children being brought up by one parent alone. Maybe, but is this fair to the woman?

How do others in my situation get back to living again? - LOST

Dear Lost: You have six reasons to get back to living: your four children, yourself and the memory of your wife. Think how sad she'd be if she knew how sad YOU were.

As for finding a replacement. Don't rush things. Instead, join a Parents Without Partners Club and find how others have adjusted to their great loss.

National Headquarters for Parents Without Partners is 80 - 5th Avenue, New York, N.Y. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope here and the national secretary will send you the name of a PWP group in your area. - H

Dear Helen: I'm a student of people. I like to watch them. Maybe others might be interested in my observations, which are:

1. Not over one out of five men can talk for five minutes without putting his hand to his face or hair. Women? About two minutes are their limit. If the talkers are upset or worried, hands go to faces much oftener.
2. People tend to "advertise" their greatest defect, that is, if it really bothers them. For instance, the gal with the long nose or bad teeth puts her hand to her face more often than she should.
3. Women stare more openly

Matthews said Purcell had ruled correctly that the Republican party was now the majority party and was entitled to a majority of the election judges and clerks.

Among the Republicans critical of the opinion were G. Thomas Elsele, the governor's legal aide, and Jerry Thomason, a candidate for attorney general.

"Messrs. Elsele and Thomason now argue that this ruling is unfair, discriminatory and obviously thrust upon them by a partisan attorney general in an effort to disrupt the election process," Matthews said.

"I find myself in a unique position," he said. "Unlike these gentlemen, I do not share their distrust of the honesty of their own election judges and clerks. In fact, I go even further. I am confident that the Republicans as well as the Democratic judges and clerks could never be as petulant and quarrelsome in the performance of their duties as Elsele and Thomason are upon being reminded of their party's responsibilities."

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) - Reports of the impending demise of that tried and true staple of commercial television, the half-hour situation comedy, seem to be gross exaggerations.

There is plenty of life in the old form when it is done well, as Doris Day, a couple of cute moppets, a winning grandpa and a comedy housekeeper combined to demonstrate on CBS Tuesday night.

The new series called—"What else?"—"The Doris Day Show" started with an episode that was a cheerful heartwinger. Miss Day plays a young widow. In the premiere she was having a birthday and her two boys, aged 10 and 6, take her out to dinner, planning to pay for it with the $7.36 they have earned doing chores over a period of weeks.

The restaurant turns out to be a joint; the proprietor is a tough guy; the tab runs to almost $20 and the boys have deliberately removed their mother's wallet from her handbag so she can't pay for anything.

Did they wash dishes? Not in the happy televisionland inhabited by Doris Day. The proprietor melted and submitted a bill for $7.36, and the help all gathered around to sing "happy birthday." And all over the nation there were people enjoying every minute of the show.

Earlier, ABC showed a special 90-minute episode kicking off its hour-long "Mod Squad," a police-action story that differs from the usual run in that the principals are three young drop-outs enlisted as undercover agents.

All the show is done in very modern idiom. The three members of the "Mod Squad" dress in a highly contemporary manner, are involved with other rebellious young people and there was talk of LSD and bad trips.

Michael Cole, a handsome young newcomer, plays a rather sullen member of the trio who comes from a rich family—"14 rooms and five baths"—with whom he has no rapport. Clarence Williams III plays a boy who grew up in Watts—"13 people in three rooms"—and often suggests a kind of raw anger.

Peggy Lipton, playing a girl who ran away from a broken home, did not have much to do in the first episode. As time goes on, the three promise to pull together an interesting, youth-oriented action show—provided the script writers don't go overboard on the dialogue which tends to sound like hippie cliches.

And then there was the premiere of ABC's "That's Life," which is a little hard to describe and was very hard to follow.

This series is a sort of musical comedy and started with a show in which boy-Bobby Morse—met girl—E. J. Peaker. In subsequent shows they'll court, marry, fight, and so forth.

It is all a novel idea. Morse is a good all-around musical comedy man and Miss Peaker is a pretty blonde newcomer. But unless the show settles down to a style and a pace, it may encounter some hard sledding as the weeks go by.

Recommended Tonight: "Here Come the Brides," premiere, ABC, 7:30-8:30 EDT, action and comedy in an 1880 lumber camp when 100 brides are imported to

Tigers Hold Edge on Cards in Homers

(First in a series of two articles comparing St. Louis and Detroit, opponents in the 1968 World Series)

BATTING
By BEN LOAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Tigers 182 homers, Cards 72.
This statistic emphasizes more than anything the wide margin in power that Detroit has over St. Louis and, if the Tigers continue to put this effective weapon to their best advantage, they are liable to win their first world championship since 1945.

The Series opens Wednesday, Oct. 2 in the Cards' ball park. It will be the first post-season meeting of the teams since 1934 when St. Louis won in seven games.

Detroit, the American League titleholder, leads the 1968 National League pennant winner in home runs at every position except third base and shortstop.

As a unit, the Cardinals have compiled a batting average 12 points higher than the Tigers, .248 to .236. However, each team has the edge at four positions as far as the probable starters are concerned.

The Tigers appear to have more reserve strength. Detroit's Gates Brown is one of the big league's finest pinch hitters. The left-handed hitting outfielder has an over-all mark of .373 in 83 official appearances with five homers and nine other extra base hits among 31 safeties.

Veteran Al Kaline, finally playing his first World Series, has a .295 average with 10 home runs in 96 games. He may replace Cash at first base if St. Louis starts a southpaw pitcher.
In addition, third baseman Ed Mathews may be eligible to play, giving Detroit another valuable man in a pinch. The Tigers can make him eligible within the next six days by dropping one of their other 25 eligibles. Mathews has only three homers this year, but his career aggregate of 512 places him sixth on the all-time list.

The Cards' reserves are headed by outfielders Bobby Tolan, .233 and Ron Davis, .205. Both took Maris place when the latter needed a rest during the regular campaign.

St. Louis has a tremendous edge in stolen bases. Led by Brock's 60, the Cardinals have stolen 107. Detroit's total is a mere 25.

Damascus Is Entered in Internat'l

LAUREL, Md. (AP) — The owner of Damascus accepted an invitation today to compete in the Washington, D.C. International, setting up a possible rubber match with Dr. Fager for American Horse of the Year honors.

Laurel Race Course, site of the $150,000 International on Nov. 11, announced the acceptance by Thomas Bancroft, husband of Edith W. Bancroft, owner of Damascus.

Dr. Fager, who has split four meetings with Damascus during the past two years, also was invited by the American Selection Board to represent the United States against foreign entries in the 1 1/2-mile turf race.

Dixon already has carried the ball 33 times for 194 yards and Lamonia tops the passers with five touchdowns and no interceptions to show for two games. Each leads his individual department.

Haven Moses, Buffalo's talented rookie from San Diego State, is one of the few bright spots in the Bills muddled situation. Moses leads the league's pass receivers with 13 catches for 156 yards.

The kickers have taken over the scoring race with Jan Stenerud of Kansas City showing the way. Stenerud had made good on 10 of 11 field goal attempts and has seven straight extra points.

Mays Ties Up 2nd Place for Giants

By MIKE BRYSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Say Hey kid isn't a kid anymore, but you'll sure have a hard time convincing the Houston Astros.

Wondrous Willie Mays, all 37 years of him, cracked his 22nd homer of the season and a two-run bunt to spark a comeback from behind 5-4 victory over the Astros Tuesday night that clinched second place for the Giants.

A two-run bunt?
Yep. Willie, more noted for his long hitting feats, came up with that little oddity to cap a four-run rally in the eighth inning.

Astro third baseman Doug Rader took so much time fielding the slithering little dribbler down the baseline that not only did Dave Marshall score from third but also Jim Davenport from second.

Mays, whose solo blast in the first was the 56th of his career, also had a single in four trips and stole one base.

Meanwhile, Pittsburgh's Steve Blass recorded his third consecutive shutout, and ninth straight victory and eighth straight complete game—and in the process helped teammate Matty Alou grab a share of the National League batting lead—as the Pirates subdued Cincinnati 2-0.

In other NL games, World Series-bound St. Louis was a 2-1 victim of Philadelphia, Atlanta socked the New York Mets 7-4 and the Chicago Cubs edged Los Angeles 3-2.

Over in the American League, Detroit's champions nipped Baltimore 5-3, New York topped Cleveland 5-1 in the opener of a doubleheader before losing 5-2, Washington trounced Boston 10-2, the Chicago White Sox outlasted Oakland 5-1 in 12 innings and Minnesota dropped California 5-3 in 10 innings.

Blass, who hasn't been beaten since Aug. 10, aided Alou in his battle with the Reds' Pete Rose the hard way.

He struck out six Reds—fanning Rose three times.

Deron Johnson lashed a two-run homer and Tommie Aaron had three hits and scored two runs as the Braves squelched Met rookie Jerry Koosman's hopes for 20 victories.

Koosman, 18-12, battered hard during the early going, finally was chased in the sixth.

However, the Cubs' Ferguson Jenkins survived an eight-hit Los Angeles attack to win his 19th. Adolfo Phillips doubled, homered and scored twice to back him up.

Gary Sutherland's run-scoring double with two out in the eighth let the Phillies sidetrack St. Louis. Rookie Jerry Johnson, who scattered eight hits, picked up the victory, while Ray Washburn, making his first appearance since hurling a no-hitter last week, was tagged with the loss.

Oakland Gets Nod to Win 2nd Flag

NEW YORK (AP) — Hewitt Dixon and Daryle Lamonia are two good reasons why the Oakland Raiders are favored to retain the title in the American Football League.

Dixon already has carried the ball 33 times for 194 yards and Lamonia tops the passers with five touchdowns and no interceptions to show for two games. Each leads his individual department.

Haven Moses, Buffalo's talented rookie from San Diego State, is one of the few bright spots in the Bills muddled situation. Moses leads the league's pass receivers with 13 catches for 156 yards.

Bobcats to Face Bucks at Smackover

By RALPH ROUNTON
Star Sports Writer

Every even-numbered year at about this time, the Hope Bobcats enter the unholy position of being the Homecoming opponent for the Smackover Buckaroos. This, my friends, is that time.

Our boys are going to need each supporter and a few more to come close to rivaling the enthusiasm which will certainly be displayed by the Battlin' Bucks. And, to put it very mildly, it should and will be one heckuva game.

Two years ago Bobcats fans filled the visitors' side at Smackover's Forest Field, and the Big Cats responded with a 19-12 comeback win on two fourth-quarter touchdowns. Then last year the Bucks spoiled Hope's conference opener at home by upending the Bobcats 8-0, scoring a safety and an ensuing TD in the fourth quarter.

Looking ahead to next week's divisional opener with Malvern in Hammons Stadium, the Bobcats can once again term this one as a must victory. That confidence built up from the 30-7 lashing of DeQueen needs some quick reinforcements in order to hold out for that tough month of October now ahead.

The weekly release of 4-AA statistics is very interesting for Bobcat followers. The Bobcats lead either the Western Division or all of 4-AA in at least five areas, with several more seconds. Hope leads 4-AA West both in first downs (38) and first downs given up (12), and also ranks second to Fairview in total offense.

In the rushing department the Bobcats are second, and Hope is third in passing yardage, although quarterback Larry Massanelli has attempted and completed more passes than anyone else in 4-AA West. The most outstanding statistic, however, is rushing defense. Through three ball games Hope has only given up 63 yards, or an average of 21 yards per game. This easily leads all other 11 teams in 4-AA by at least 40 yards.

Overall defensively, the Bobcats are on top in the West and a close second to Magnolia for 4-AA honors. Thus the Cats have some pretty impressive figures to present, and Ronny Brown's team, 3-0, is looking good.

Magnolia, who has scored 71 points while holding their first three opponents scoreless, gets a rough test from the Crossett Eagles Friday night in Crossett. Last year the Panthers got their momentum for an 8-2-1 year by upsetting the Eagles 10-0 in Magnolia. Last weekend Magnolia stomped Camden 33-0, thus putting an end to Camden's chances of a surprise in the East.

Those irrepressible Malvern Leopards picked up their first win by crushing Texarkana Washington 31-0 last Friday to even their season mark at 1-1. This week the Leopards play host to the ever-tough Little Rock Catholic High Rockets, a rough game before their showdown at Hope a week later with the Bobcats.

Last year, when Fairview went 11-1, that "one" was inflicted by the Smackover Bucks in a 14-13 shocker. But the Redbirds made up for all that on the Buckaroos' home ground this past Friday, running away with a 40-13 win for their twelfth straight over Monticello 33-0, the Hillbillies having tied Warren the previous week, Warren, by the way, still hasn't won, with an 18-7 fall to Dumas the latest wound.

Good old Arkadelphia may be mean old Arkadelphia before their season finale with the Bobcats, as the breaks came their way in an astounding 13-7 upset over offense-minded Nashville. The Scrappers never could get going with several injured starters, and lost only their second game since the 1966 season.

In a meeting of two of 4-AA's Negro schools, the Camden Lincoln Tigers marched over El Dorado Washington 12-6, sending the Hornets to 0-3. It could be bad on them this Friday, because they take on a perennial power in Greenville, Mississippi.

So with our Bobcats in the thick of a tough conference race, the Hope coaches are presently satisfied with the team's effort, though not being over-confident by any means. Anyway, Hope fans who make the journey to Smackover should come away with a good idea as to how the Bobcats will match up against 4-AA competition.

Creating a jumble of enthusiasm around HHS are the Bobkittens, who put their unbeaten 2-0 mark on the line against the Arkadelphia Badger Cubs in the Ouachita Baptist University stadium tomorrow night at 7:30 p.m. Both teams have not lost as of yet, and Hope remembers the 28-14 loss to Arkadelphia last season at Hope.

Junior high coach Gaylord Solomon has had quite a coaching aid this week in the film of the 13-7 win over DeQueen last Thursday, and the Kittens should be ready for their peak performance against Arkadelphia. However, they will have to be determined rather than over-confident, which nearly lost it for them last week.

Doing the filming work this season for the HHS Athletic Department is Ronnie Phillips, and he is doing outstandingly well in this, his first experience in filming. All of the Bobcats' games are filmed each year, including a smattering of junior high, "B" team, and pre-season scrimmage games.

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — The American Professional Golfers organization's drive to start its own tourney circuit is temporarily into the rough as the result of a federal court restraining order.

Chief U.S. Dist. Court Judge Caleb M. Wright issued the order late Tuesday on the complaint of the Professional Golfers Association.

The APG was founded last month in the throes of a feud between the PGA hierarchy and some of the PGA tour's top money winners.

The APG signed up scores of PGA members and even hired away the PGA's tourney director, Jack Tuthill, as its own.

One of the PGA's prime complaints is apparently directed at Tuthill. Wright's order specifically prohibits the rebel group from "employing documents, mailing lists and confidential information transferred from the PGA to the APG by a former PGA employee."

The judge's order however, mentions no persons by name. Other stipulations prevent the APG from "entering into any agreement with a sponsor of a 1968 PGA golf tournament" or "soliciting any prospective tournament player to participate in or conduct a 1968 qualifying school."

The APG's board of directors includes the PGA tour's leading money winner, Billy Casper, and Gardner Dickinson, Jack Nicklaus, Doug Ford, Dan Sikes, and Frank Beard, all in the PGA's upper income bracket.

The APG spun off from the PGA over grievances including demands for a greater voice for players in HGA affairs.

Purdue Notre Dame Meet Saturday

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Bowl fever is in September?

That's the state of the State of Indiana this week as Purdue and Notre Dame, 1-2 in the latest college football power ratings, grid for Saturday's Poll Bowl clash at South Bend.

The Fighting Irish, who've had more than one national championship dream spotted by the Boilermakers in recent years, are certain to pull out all stops to reverse their 28-20 setback at Lafayette last season. For one thing, they're bringing back Knute Rockne.

Pat O'Brien, who portrayed the legendary Notre Dame coach in the movies, is scheduled to keynote Friday night's pep rally at South Bend. After he gets the Irish up, it'll be twice as difficult for Purdue to bring them down.

But, while Notre Dame might have the makings of a psychological lock, the Boilermakers have the keys to the kingdom. And the hunch here is that All-American halfback Leroy Keyes' versatility will offset ND's Terry Hanratty-Jim Seymour air power... giving the visitors' superior defense just enough leverage to carry the verdict.

The 40th Notre Dame-Purdue collision (the Irish hold a 23-14-2 edge) tops a full major college card that includes several other long-standing rivalries and some intersectional dandies.

Here's how we see the outcomes (with seven ties counted against us the early season hit-and-miss mark is 49-21 for a .700 pace):

Saturday Afternoon
Princeton over Rutgers: When these two gave the football its first Jersey bounce 99 years ago, Rutgers prevailed 6-4. Then the Princeton got their single wing off the ground... and they've taken 50 of 58 meetings.

Florida over Florida State: If the Gators can get their teeth into Ron Sellers, State's pass-catching marvel, they'll rule the Everglades.

West Virginia over Pittsburgh: It will take the young Panthers another week to get over last Saturday night's 63-7 debacle at UCLA.

South Carolina over North Carolina: Fullback Warren Muir is running on the S.C. ticket... and Strom Thurmond couldn't ask for more.

Kansas over Indiana: The Hoosiers hurried 80 yards in the closing minutes for a 40-35 nod over Baylor last week. This time the chariot will turn into a pumpkin before they can get home free.

Minnesota over Nebraska: The Gophers' opening tussle with mighty Southern California has toughened them for this bitter flatlands feud.

Michigan over Duke: Rambling Ron Johnson, stalled by California last week, should put the bite back in the Wolverines' attack.

Oklahoma over North Carolina State: The Wolfpack defenders tackle like their namesakes, but Oklahoma swiftness Eddie Hinton and Steve Owens will lead them a merry chase.

Miami, Fla. over Georgia Tech: Tech's passer is (Larry) Good but Miami's new running whiz is (Bobby) Best. And the Hurricanes can do even better... All American defensive end Ted Hendricks.

Saturday Night
Arizona State over Texas-El Paso: After destroying Wisconsin 55-7, the Sun Devils should be able to cope with UTEP's aerial circus and take a giant step toward the Western Athletic Conference title.

Mississippi over Kentucky: The Wildcats' Dicky Lyons low-bridged Missouri last week, but Ole Miss will be a rougher river to cross.

Ruling on G. & F. Ouster Scheduled

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Chancellor Kay L. Matthews was scheduled to hear motions today seeking an injunction to keep Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller from holding ouster hearings on two state Game and Fish Commission members.

The commissioners, Ernest Hogue of Wiener and Newt Haley of Rogers, filed their motions separately Tuesday.

Hogue said he filed the motion because he didn't want to go "up against a stacked deck so to speak." He said he had done no misdeeds as a commissioner.

Razorback Hog Call Recognized

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas' distinctive yell, "calling the Hogs," will receive official recognition during the half at Saturday's Razorback-Tulsa football game.

The International Cheerleading Foundation has announced that it will present its second Collegiate Traditions Award to the university for its yell.

Randy Nell, executive director of the foundation, will make the presentation to the student body at the game.

Grid Giants Block 3 Kicks

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Giants shook up the National Football League Sunday when they blocked three of four extra point attempts by the Philadelphia Eagles.

The NFL office reports that last time three were missed in one game was in 1950 when both Ted Fritsch of Green Bay and Donk Walker of Detroit were the victims. The record is four against Joe Aguirre of Washington by Philadelphia, Oct. 8, 1944.

As Spider Lockhart also blocked one for the Giants in Pittsburgh the previous week, the three blocked by Jim Katsavage, Bob Lurisma and Bruce Anderson attracted unusual interest.

"Emotion has a lot to do with it," said Jim Trimble, assistant coach of the New Yorkers. "The defense is keyed up about this thing. They really think they can block those points now."

In two games the Giants have blocked four of seven extra point attempts by the Steelers and Eagles.

The team statistics show Dallas No. 1 in total offense and also in passing. The Giants lead in rushing with a 183-yard average.

The Minnesota Vikings are No. 1 in total defense, the Los Angeles Rams first in defense against the rush and Dallas tops on pass defense.

Dallas has dumped the passer 10 times for 76 yards, best in the NFL, and Detroit leads with eight interceptions, all in one game against the Chicago Bears. The Bears, incidentally, have had 10 passes intercepted.

Yarborough Hits Record Earnings

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — With two major races remaining, Cale Yarborough of Timmonsville, S.C., already has clinched the all-time season high for money won in National Association for Stock Car Auto Racing competition.

A second-place finish at Martinsville, Va., last Sunday ran his season total to $130,706.

That beat the previous high $130,275 won by Richard Petty of Randleman, N.C., last year. Four races remain on the 1968 schedule. The next will be a 250-miler Sunday at North Wilkesboro, N.C., for $22,675 in awards.

Then come two big-money races—500 miles at Charlotte Oct. 13 for $100,800 and 500 miles at Rockingham, N.C., Oct. 27 for $85,700.

The season final is 100 miles at Jefferson, Ga., Nov. 3 for $5,330.

Second in the year's money winning is David Pearson of Spartanburg, S.C., with $103,767. Lee Roy Yarborough of Columbia, S.C., is third with $78,879 and Petty fourth with $63,202.

Pearson leads the point standings with 3,011. Bobby Isaac of Catawba, N.C., is second with 2,955 and Petty third with 2,712.

Detroit Cuts Sale of Tickets

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers, snowed under by an estimated 500,000 applications for World Series tickets, said late Tuesday they would take no more.

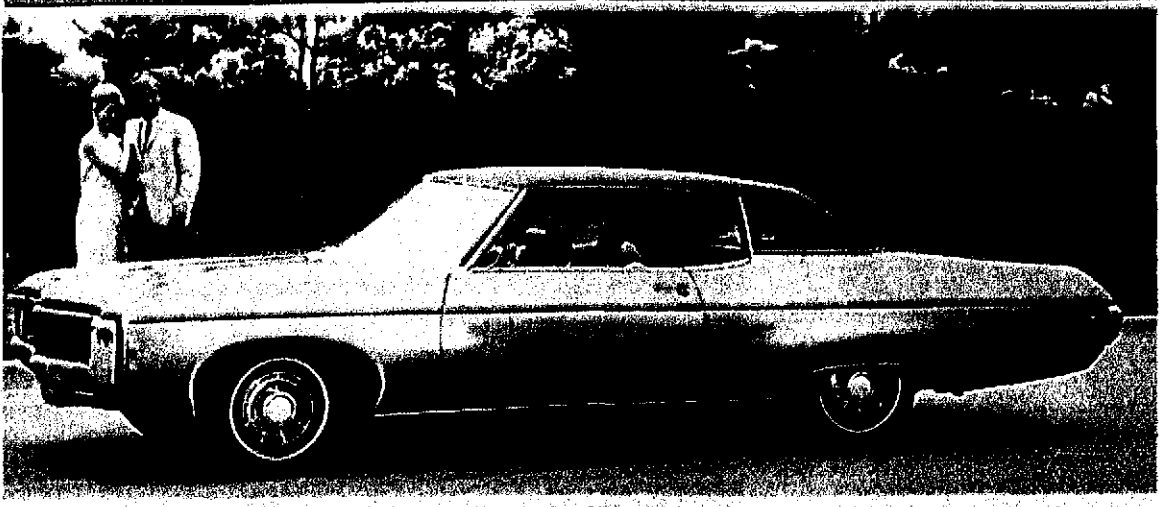

The club's publicity director, Hal Middlesworth, said any checks received in future requests will be returned to applicants.

Limited available tickets for the third and fourth series games scheduled in Detroit will be sold to persons whose names are drawn from the pile.

Middlesworth said the $1 handling and mailing fee also will be returned to those who apply too late.

The World Series between the Tigers and the St. Louis Cardinals begins Oct. 2 in St. Louis. The first Detroit game is scheduled Oct. 5.

Ashe Talks of Tennis Triumphs

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

OAKLAND (AP) — Arthur Ashe thinks his recent string of 30 consecutive victories on the tennis court might be a little deceptive.

But the surprising mastery that many amateur players have shown over the professionals is for real, he says.

Ashe, currently competing in the Pacific Coast International Tournament at Berkeley, stopped at a news conference here Tuesday long enough to give his highly articulate views on a variety of tennis subjects.

Last week, Ashe lost a match in Los Angeles to Ken Rosewall, a professional who is considered second only to Rod Laver among the world's players.

U.S. Wins Softball Title

Before losing to Rosewall, the lithe, bespectacled Army lieutenant had firmly established himself as the top amateur in the world by winning the U.S. Amateur championship and then taking the U.S. Open title at Forest Hills, N.Y.

Ashe attributes the excellent showing of amateurs against professionals since open play began this spring to the fact that the amateurs are generally in far better shape.

"The pros play those 31-point Van Allen Scoring System sets that are over in 45 minutes," Ashe said. "We've been training like crazy so when we meet in hot, five-set matches we have the edge."

The crowning achievement of the amateurs over the professionals came at Forest Hills where amateurs won all the titles, both singles and doubles.

U.S. Wins Softball Title

OKLAHOMA City, Okla. (AP) — Left-hander Charlie Richard pitched a perfect game for the United States Tuesday to beat the Philippines 4-0 in the World Softball Championships.

Richard's winning game was the second no-hitter of the day. Mexico's Erick Voligt hurled a no-hitter in beating New Zealand 1-0.

Richard struck out 15 batters and did not allow a ball out of the infield in seven innings.

Canada defeated Japan 2-0 to remain unbeaten, along with the U.S. team as the tournament entered its fourth day.

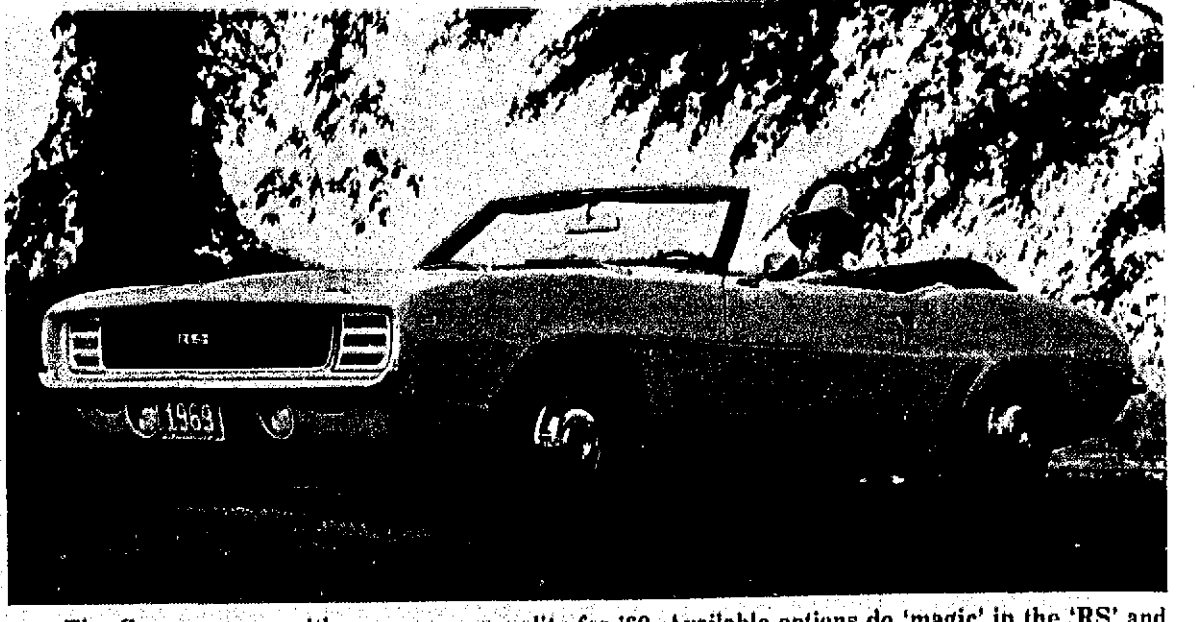

Canada has won four, the U.S. squad three. They are the only undefeated teams left in the 10-team field.

Smart 1969 Chevy Nova models

Moving up in the popularity parade of new car models is the Chevy Nova Coupe shown above. Smartness is accentuated by simulated front fender louvers, striping and bright window moldings. The new anti-theft lock system on the steering column for ignition, steering wheel and transmission selector and head restraints are standard equipment. The new Chevrolets will be on display September 26.

Camaro RS Convertible for '69

The Camaro, a car with a young personality for '69. Available options do 'magic' in the 'RS' and 'SS' versions. A varied selection of engines, striping, special hood with simulated ports, louver-styled rear fenders and wide oval white-lettered tires are but a few of the personal selections available in the '69 Camaro line. The RS Convertible is shown above. All Chevrolet-built passenger cars will be at Chevrolet dealers on September 26.

Chevrolet introduces 1969.

Caprice. Match this, you other 69's!
There is no joy in the land of our competitors today. But let us ask you this. Should we have made the Caprice shorter instead of the longest Chevrolet ever built? Or adorned it with flashy nicknacks to make it look less expensive? Just because competition doesn't should we not have offered you washers to clean your headlights, the new variable-ratio power steering, liquid tire chain that you can apply to your rear wheels at the touch of a button? Should we not have included the new 327-cubic-inch engine, the biggest standard V8 in its field? Should we have skipped the many improvements in the interior and in the quietness of the ride? Some people think so. Our competitors.

'69 Camaro SS Sport Coupe, plus RS equipment
Camaro. Who needs to say "announcing" or "new". Look at how it all hangs together. No gingerbread anywhere. Not a line that isn't leaning into the wind. The interior is also much improved. The ride is quieter. The power range is very impressive. Standard V8 is 210 hp. SS engines available up to 325 hp. For added SS appeal: striping that flanks the nose and charges up the side, power disc brakes, wide oval tires with raised white lettering. And when those fat tires grab the ground, you can almost hear the suction. Your Chevrolet dealer offers this advice: Go on, you other sportsters. Gnash your gears and look tough. Maybe it will help. Putting you first, keeps us first.

Motion to Curb Expense Cuts Loses

WASHINGTON (AP) — An effort to exempt farm price supports and Medicaid from the $6 billion federal spending cut ordered by Congress has been defeated by the Senate.

Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., a chief sponsor of the 10 per cent income tax surcharge to which the spending cut order was tied, argued before the defeat Monday that "nothing will be left of the $6 billion tax cut if you adopt this amendment."

"The Johnson administration never intended to cut expenditures if it could help it," Williams charged. "It lied to the American people when it said it would support this."

The President had said farm price supports and Medicaid were running $1.2 billion over his January estimates and if they were not cut spending he would have to cut $7.2 billion rather than $6 billion.

The exemption proposal, in a rider to a minor House tax bill was defeated 37 to 23 with no Republicans voting in favor.

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — An F11 fighter-bomber crashed in the desert Monday, the 11th crash of the $6-million swing-wing planes developed from the controversial TFX program.

The two occupants of the F11A, an American pilot and a trainee officer from Australia, ejected safely. A board was appointed to investigate the crash.

It was the ninth crash of an F11A, the Air Force version of the warplane which evolved from the tactical fighter experimental program pushed by Robert S. McNamara when he was secretary of defense.

In the four-door hardtop shown here, the new front and rear wheel opening moldings and the rocker panel molding accent the new lower styling of the LeSabre. Side window vents have been eliminated to improve visibility and reduce wind noise. New bumpers, grilles and lamps complete the LeSabre styling for 1969. Buick's 350 cubic inch V-8 engine with two barrel carburetor is the standard power plant for LeSabre models.

UN Opens Its 23rd Session

By WILLIAM N. OATES
Associated Press Writer
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y.

(AP) — The U.N. General Assembly's 23rd annual session got off to a smooth start Tuesday with the admission of Africa's newest nation, election of a Guatemalan president and a call for membership invitations to all nations.

Today the assembly scheduled election of 17 vice presidents and seven committee chairmen. Later in the day in the new steering committee gets to work on the agenda for the session.

Romanian Foreign Minister Corneliu Manescu, president of the 22nd session called the new session to order and in an opening speech said the U.N.'s "prime goal should be universality based on the realities of the world today."

He called specifically for the seating of Communist China and in effect for the admission of East and West Germany, North and South Korea and North and South Vietnam, saying among the "shortcomings" that prevented the United Nations from fully performing its task were that "the lawful rights of... have not been restored, and... a number of other states are kept out."

Manescu said "conflicts such as those in Vietnam and the Middle East... generate fresh dangers for mankind." But he made no mention of the Soviet occupation of Czechoslovakia.

He did call for respect for the U.N. charter principles of "national independence, sovereignty, equal rights and noninterference in domestic affairs." Asked later if he had Czechoslovakia in mind, he replied: "These principles are valid at any time and at any place."

Guatemalan Foreign Minister Emilio Arenales Catalan, a vigorous, black-mustached 46-year-old, was elected president on a secret ballot with 119 votes for him, one each for Ambassadors Leopoldo Bonites of Ecuador and Jose Pinera of Chile, one abstention and one invalid vote.

Then the assembly by acclamation adopted a resolution admitting Swaziland as the 125th member of the United Nations.

Prime Minister Prince Makhosina thanked the assembly on behalf of his Hawaii-sized nation in southern Africa and also served notice that his country could not join the general African campaign against South Africa's racial segregation and

Humphrey Promises SS From Taxes

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer
SEAL BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey advocated today an average 50 per cent increase in Social Security benefits—with part of the hike to be financed, for the first time, by the federal Treasury rather than payroll taxes.

He also proposed that benefits be made "inflation proof" through "a built in system of automatic increases, tied to consumer prices, to keep pace with rising living costs."

Speaking at leisure world, a retirement community with 11,000 residents, the Democratic presidential candidate outlined proposals for the biggest-ever expansion of the Social Security program.

His remarks were prepared for delivery.

Humphrey, who says his Republican opponent, Richard M. Nixon, should campaign with more ideas and fewer balloons, coupled his own ideas with a new assault on the Republicans, saying:

"The past record on security and opportunity for our older citizens is clear enough. The Democrats built it—and the Republicans bought it."

He quoted Nixon as having said of the Social Security medicare program, before its adoption, "It makes no good sense at all." Humphrey called for expansion of medicare too.

The vice president's welcome to Southern California Tuesday night was warmer than when he came here two weeks ago. Several hundred greeted him at the airport. No hostile demonstrators were in sight. And the reception committee included a bevy of prominent, if somewhat divided, Democratic figures who were notably absent during his previous visit.

After his sunset arrival Humphrey drove to a Hollywood television theater for the filming of an ABC-TV Joey Bishop show to be broadcast tonight.

During his television appearance Humphrey spoke optimistically about his campaign "I took up jogging some time ago, but now I'm running."

Agnew Is Happy Over Hawaii

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Gov. Spiro T. Agnew of Maryland says he sees no threat from George C. Wallace, the third-party candidate for president.

"Wallace is simply not electable," Agnew told a news conference in Honolulu, Hawaii, before flying to Los Angeles Tuesday night.

The Republican vice presidential nominee was met by a small group on his arrival in Los Angeles, where he spent the night. He campaigned in the islands for three days.

Agnew files to Baltimore today.

The Republican candidate said he was pleased by crowds along his campaign and has "a particularly good feeling about our chances of winning in Hawaii." He said he has not planned to go to all 50 states but would go to Anchorage, Alaska, because he considers it important to campaign in the newest state.

Agnew was asked why he went to Hawaii, which has only four electoral votes. He said he didn't go for the votes, adding, "I don't think it's going to be that close."

2nd Bank at Bentonville Approved

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Bank Board approved Tuesday an application for the establishment of a second bank in the city of Bentonville.

A group of about 30 persons from Bentonville appeared at a hearing on the proposal but there was no opposition to it, said H.C. Adams, the state bank commissioner.

The new bank in Bentonville will be known as the Citizens Bank of Bentonville.

Its proposed directors are G. J. Bonds, J.T. Hill, W.D. Powell, Floyd L. Rees, Cecil El Shores and Wally H. Wolf.

Adams said all information about the proposed bank was including in the filings and that since no opposition appeared, there was no need for a lengthy hearing.

The board denied an application for a new bank charter at Flippin. Banks at Mountain Home and Yellville opposed the charter, claiming that Flippin is losing population and there was no need for a bank there.

The organizers of the proposed Empire Bank and Trust Co. listed Raymond Sanders of Flippin as chairman of the board.

Both the 30-year-old princess and her son are in excellent condition, a medical bulletin said, although the delivery was by surgery.

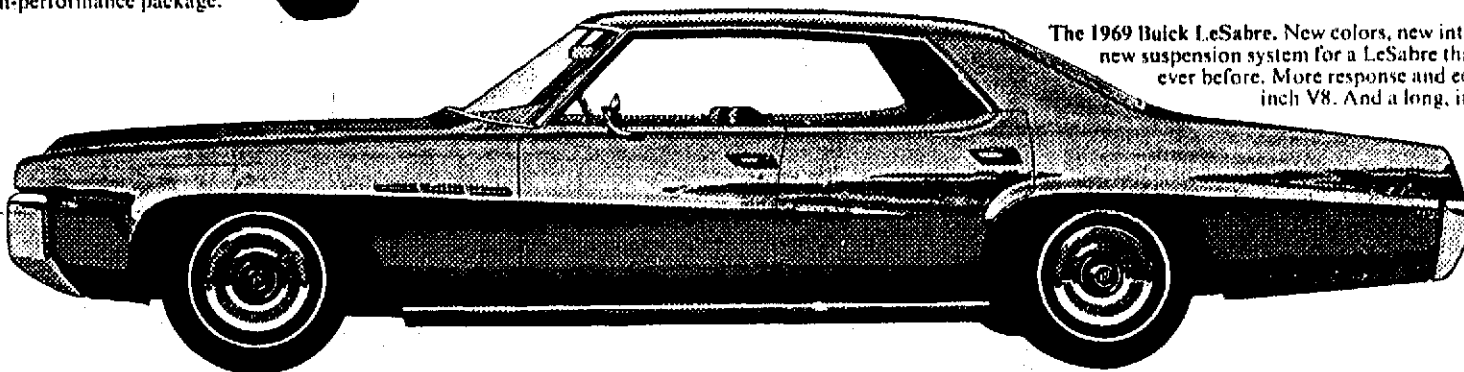

Beatrix's first child, Prince Willem Alexander, was born on April 27, 1967, and was the first male heir to the throne born since 1851. N.Y. Teacher Strike Is Unsolved

By TOM KELLY
Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — All sides in the New York public school teachers' strike met face to face today for the first time since the walkout began, but the session produced agreement on only one point—there was no progress.

"I regret to say that there has been no movement on the part of either side in the dispute," said Mayor John V. Lindsay, who summoned the various officials to his Grace Mansion residence Tuesday night.

"There was absolutely no progress" declared the AFL-CIO United Federation of Teachers which has struck for eight of the first 10 days of the fall term.

Rhody McCoy, administrator of the embattled Ocean Hill-Brownsville district in Brooklyn, left first along with members of the community elected local board. He said the status of talks was "absolutely sickening."

On Tuesday both Shanker and officials of the local board had urged Lindsay to assume a more active role in the dispute over job security for ousted teachers in the Ocean Hill experimental district.

At 4:25 a.m. Lindsay came out on the steps of the mansion and told newsmen: "I have been meeting since 6 p.m. last night with all parties." He said the Board of Education would formulate a new plan of action later today.

The strike which pits the largely white UFT against the predominantly Negro and Puerto Rican forces seeking community control of schools has locked most of the 900 public schools to 1.1 million pupils.

The teachers struck for two days at the opening of the fall term but classes got under way Sept. 11-12. The strike was resumed when the union said an agreement was breached in the Ocean Hill district.

Monday and Tuesday of this week were regularly scheduled school holidays due to the Jewish New Year.

The UFT walked out after the Ocean Hill district board refused to reinstate 10 teachers it dismissed last spring and another 100 who walked out in sympathy.

The 10 were accused of sabotaging the district's experiment in decentralization but were cleared of the charges at a hearing. However, when the ousted teachers tried to return after the initial settlement two weeks ago community demonstrators barred their way.

Ocean Hill-Brownsville is one of three districts set up to test the concept of community control prior to the planned decentralization of the system into 30 local districts.

Election Fouls Up Congress

By EDMOND LEBRETON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — House leaders are telling restless members itching to get home for the campaign that there will be plenty of time for electioneering if they only put in a few days hard work on the floor.

The word is out that the House is ready to work only on a few major matters for a day or two a week, and take the rest of the time off.

The Senate still faces action on the nomination of Abe Fortas to be chief justice and the nuclear nonproliferation treaty, which may be put over until the next Congress. But House leaders have decided their chamber can limit its work to conference reports, one remaining appropriation bill and, if committees act promptly, one or two other major measures.

So, if the Senate drags out the session, the House will start taking official recesses instead of playing hooky.

Partly because of Jewish Holy Days, partly because of campaign demands, the House came up short of a quorum Monday.

On Tuesday leaders didn't even let the question get to a count. They adjourned 10 minutes after convening.

The Senate Tuesday was able to put in a day's work when 87 of its 100 members showed up. This was a distinct contrast to Monday's Senate performance when it took more than two hours to round up a quorum.

The closer the election comes, however, the harder it is to keep a quorum. After all, every seat in the House comes up this year, as it does every two years, to be filled. Only a third of the Senate seats are contested every two years.

No Hurricane Yet; Season Not Over

By BEN FUNK
Associated Press Writer
MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Not a single major storm has come howling out of the tropics to attack American shores this year, but "don't write off the hurricane season yet," says director Robert H. Simpson of Miami's National Hurricane Center.

"It takes only a week," Simpson said, "for a vast change in atmosphere conditions that could yield a whole rash of storms, or develop one giant hurricane. We don't predict that, but it's possible."

For U.S. residents, Simpson said, it has been a tame season for two reasons.

The first is that the upper atmosphere of the tropics has been abnormally cold. The air column of a hurricane, rising like a giant smokestack to great heights, cannot develop and hold together without a concentration of heat all the way up.

The second restricting factor is that surface winds have been blowing from the east and upper winds from the west, making it impossible for an air column to grow.

Simpson said the winds blow like this in the winter time, "and that's why we don't have hurricanes then," but such a situation develops only periodically in the storm season.

While it has been a dull season from a public standpoint, Simpson said, it has been a humdinger for the forecasters. Of the 15 hurricanes that have formed in the eastern Pacific this year, virtually all of them were tracked for thousands of miles by Miami weathermen.

"They're up to the letter 'O' in the alphabet over in the Pacific," Simpson said, "and they got virtually all of them from us. We probably cracked the record for the number of organized disturbances we have tracked."

Unable to develop in the Atlantic, they found the proper conditions in the Pacific, although none grew into major storms.

Miami forecasters have given names to only four Atlantic storms this year. The first, Abby, drove thousands from their homes in western Cuba and moved across Florida, but her winds never exceeded 75 miles an hour and damage was minor.

Candy formed in the Gulf of Mexico and brought heavy rains to Texas. Brenda, Dolly and Edna never crossed a coastline.

Chances for Debate Not Rated Good

By ROBERT A. HUNT
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Commerce Committee called up the equal time bill today amid faltering hopes that congressional action can be completed in time for television debates between the presidential candidates.

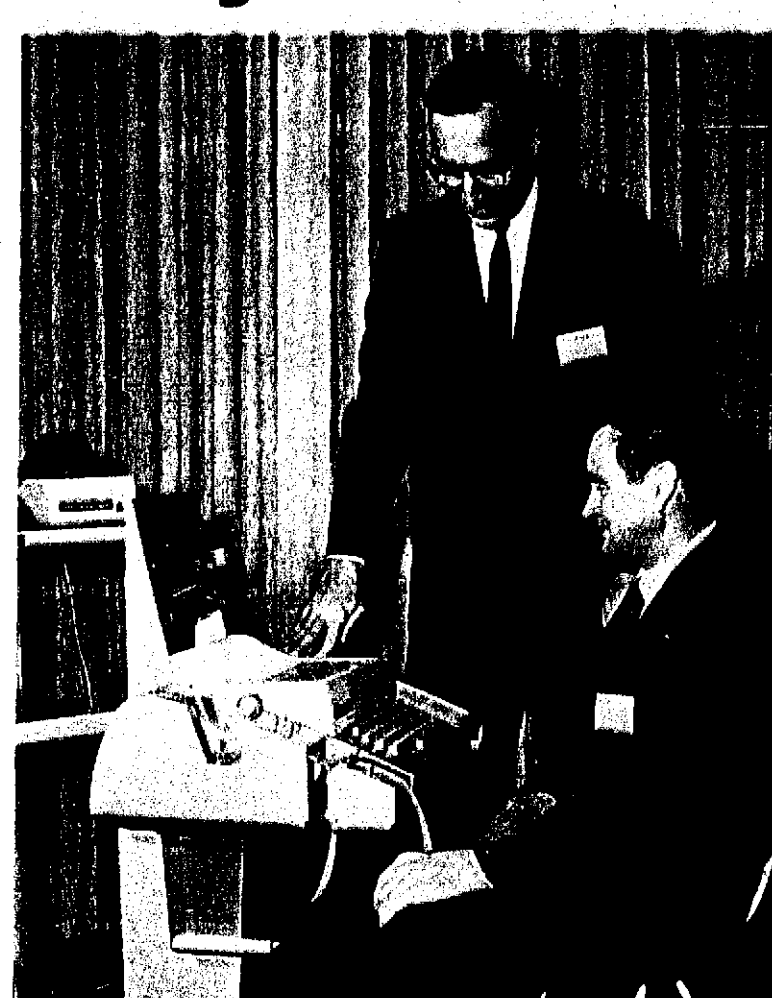

Even if the measure finally is shaken loose from committee chances for debates this year appear slim unless Republican Richard M. Nixon recants repeated declarations he will not take part in a debate involving third-party candidate George C. Wallace.

The bill still must be debated on the floor by a House that is finding it increasingly difficult to get enough members together to do business.

A similar measure suspending equal time requirements was passed in 1960, making possible the historic debates between Nixon and John F. Kennedy. That bill, however, passed the Congress in plenty of time for the first of the four debates to be held Sept. 26.

The current bill, now modified

Europeans See 'Right' Tide in U.S.

LONDON (AP) — A West German television commentator fears America is shifting dangerously to the right politically. An English correspondent sees the United States on the brink of a new epoch.

"The trend in the United States is directed to the right at present," commented Heinz Pol from Washington for the Frankfurter Rundschau. "That cannot even be hidden by the protest movement of the students and the colored people. If many indications are not wrong, the trend to the right even bears extreme traits and widely surpasses the term 'conservatism.'"

Pol said "The truth is that the United States is, politically, on a very dangerous road." He found the presidential campaign of George C. Wallace "daily winning thousands of new adherents, who fall into enthusiastic frenzy when their 'saviour' talks of cleaning out the Communist-anarchistic stable called Washington. These are times which by some might be recalled from the times of Hitler and Mussolini."

James Cameron, a British correspondent for the Evening News who is touring the United States, reported that despite the troubles faced by the United States, "America will transcend her crisis because the Americans are the most resilient of people, the most varied and resourceful, as well as the strongest."

He continued: "I am beginning to believe in a new American epoch which may be more introverted and probably safer."

"Whatever the results of the election it seems to me certain that the U.S. tendency henceforth will be to accept fatigue, to opt out, to reject the pattern of world leadership."

And an Irish correspondent, after a visit to the United States, had some kind words for the New York police.

Brian Barrett, of the Irish Independent, said the police were to include provision for Wallace to be part of any debates between Nixon and Democrat Hubert H. Humphrey, almost made it to the floor last week.

A Republican-backed parliamentary move blocked it. Democrats suggested the Republican action was tied in to Nixon's stated position.

The Senate has passed a suspension bill. The House Commerce Committee approved this measure with only a minor change but then, last week, backed up, reconsidered the earlier action and accepted an amendment directly relating to Wallace.

The equal time requirements say broadcasters who allow time to a candidate must provide equal opportunities to all others competing for the same office. The proposed suspensions relate only to the offices of president and vice president for the 1968 campaign.

Should one of the candidates refuse an invitation from a network, the way would be clear for the others to continue on the same program.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller said Tuesday that he had "absolutely no intention" of running for a third term.

He said he didn't think his remarks over the weekend should be interpreted that he had changed his mind about seeking only two terms.

Last Saturday the governor said he was not "closing the door" on the idea.

Rockefeller also said at a news conference that he will propose the reorganization of the state's election machinery in the 1969 General Assembly if he is re-elected.

He said he believed the law dealing with the naming of third members to county boards of election commissioners should contain a provision giving the majority party the power of veto.

Rockefeller also said he intends to make public before the general election a list of state employees whose salaries he has been supplementing since becoming governor.

He declined to name a date when he would reveal the list, but said it would come in his presentation "of a program for the future in totality."

Rockefeller said the persons whose salaries were increased through his financial assistance had been "able to get 85 per cent more federal money than my predecessor."

The governor said he and his wife had given $6,000 to the campaign of a Republican Charles Bernard for the U.S. Senate and Rep. John Paul Hammerschmidt and Guy Newcomb for U.S. House positions.

Rockefeller said federal laws prevented donations of more than $3,000 by one person and that anything in excess of this was considered a gift and subject to rather heavy taxation.

He said he did not know how much money he and his wife had contributed to the six Republicans seeking state constitutional offices.

Asked if he had donated to candidates in the Democratic party, Rockefeller said, "I don't believe I've crossed party lines. I'm having enough donations in my own party."

Rockefeller also was asked about a statement by Marion H. Crank, the Democratic gubernatorial nominee. Crank quoted the Helena World as saying in July that Rockefeller told a group of Phillips County Republicans "the offices provided in the state Capitol are miserable and not befitting even a small businessman."

The governor said that what he told the GOP group in Phillips County was that the office was "miserably laid out."

He said he had seen the governor's offices in many states, all of which were more efficiently laid out. He said his office was bad from the point of view of the news media, visitors and the work force.

Nixon Camp at Odds With Rep. Ford

By JOSEPH E. MOHBAT

WASHINGTON (AP) — Richard M. Nixon's high command has made it clear it wants no part of House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford's pitch to Southern congressional candidates; Support George C. Wallace over Nixon, if they must, to ensure their own election.

"That's news to our campaign," said Nixon's press secretary, Herbert G. Klein, when informed of the Ford position.

"If there is such a strategy, it has no bearing on our campaign or our attitude, which is that we are supporting all Republican candidates."

Ford and his Republican Congressional Campaign Committee—all House members pledged to Nixon's presidential candidacy—have embarked on a series of meetings with GOP congressional candidates across the country. The tour has Nixon's backing.

The committee met Monday with Kentucky and North Carolina candidates at Greensboro, N.C. The candidates were told they weren't expected to support Nixon over Wallace, the American Independent Party nominee, if it would endanger their own campaigns.

Democrats, too, have had 25,000 tons, and is lightly armed, while U.S. attack carriers range up to 85,000 tons and carry heavy armament.

The rear half of the ship provides the only "flat-top" or flight deck space.

The "Middle Road" Has Narrowed

There isn't any way to say it, in these troubled times, without offending what may be a vast majority of the American people — white and black, rich and poor, educated and illiterate. But we are troubled by the apparent disappearance of reason from the nation society — the substitute of emotion for logic, of violence for persuasion, of fear for faith.

The American moderate has become a man without a country. He is disowned and despised, both by the militant radicals and by the closed-minded advocates of a "return to the days of the founding fathers."

Both sides are assertive and positive — the leftist mobs in the streets, the rightist legions in their wealth and political influence. The theme of each is hate. Neither cares about the welfare of the "common man"; each considers itself uncommon disciples, ordained and anointed to save the nation. Both, in their separate ways, are destroying the nation.

The militants are, of course, wrong — deliberate lawlessness, for whatever motive, offers small chance for deliverance in a democratic republic based on law and justice. But the rightists err too if they conclude, in smug disdain of truth, that the law can be used as an instrument of suppression.

There is a better way to peace and progress and brotherhood. It lies in calm appraisal, in sensible analysis, and in amicable discussion of the problems that confront the country in this age of great stress. The time is late, but it is not too late. The price of failure may be disastrous. Asheville (N.C.) Citizen

Following the noon parade, Wallace will speak at 5 p.m. at City Hall in Cicero, Ill. The former Alabama governor is tentatively scheduled to visit cities in six other states in the East and Midwest by the end of the week.

On Tuesday, a motorcade will take Wallace to four Michigan cities: Grand Rapids, Kalamazoo, Lansing and Flint. The following day another motor caravan will carry the presidential candidate to four northern Ohio industrial cities. Speeches are scheduled in Akron, Canton, Alliance and Youngstown. The third-party candidate stops in Indianapolis, Ind., at noon Thursday and then is scheduled to move on to Pittsburgh, Pa., that evening for a fund-raising dinner and rally. Another dinner and rally are planned at Buffalo, N.Y., on Oct. 4.

Enemy Thrust Beaten Off, 135 Cong Dead

By GEORGE MCARTHUR
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — A crack enemy battalion of about 300 men armed with flamethrowers, rocket launchers and assault rifles was chopped in half early today trying to overrun a Special Forces camp close to the Cambodian border.

The enemy left 135 dead on the battlefield along with 1,000 small blocks of plastic explosive probably intended to blow up the camp at Katum. Allied troops sweeping the battlefield also found 1,000 unused rocket grenades, an indication that the attack force was supported by a strong local force of porters and arms carriers.

Under a furious barrage of 300 mortar and rocket rounds, the attackers rushed the barbed wire around the Katum camp a few hours before dawn.

Wave after wave hurled at the camp before what was left of the battered battalion pulled back in midmorning, some six hours after the first assault.

Normally the camp at Katum is the base for six companies of South Vietnamese irregulars. It was believed about 400 South Vietnamese plus 10 to 12 American Green Beret advisers were in the camp when the assault came.

U.S. Headquarters said 11 South Vietnamese were killed, 10 were wounded and one was missing.

There was no announcement of casualties among the Americans in the camp.

Often hit, the camp at Katum is only three miles from Cambodia, and 70 miles northwest of Saigon. It guards a heavily jungled border area which is a principle infiltration route toward the provincial capital, Tay Ninh, and toward Saigon.

Since Monday night, U.S. bombers have dropped some 1,750 tons of bombs on infiltration routes in northern Tay Ninh Province, usually a sign that allied intelligence has detected enemy movement in the area.

Far to the north in coastal Quang Ngai Province, a sweep by the U.S. Americal Division hit a strong North Vietnamese force today in the same spot.

14 Held in Burning of Draft Records

By KEN HARTNETT
Associated Press Writer

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Fourteen persons, including five Roman Catholic priests, were arrested after the destruction of thousands of draft records seized from a Selective Service office Tuesday.

The 14 sang, prayed and waited for arrest while the flames ate at the piles of paper they carried in burlap sacks from the office building to a park across the street.

"Some property has no right to exist," the protesters said in a news release prepared in advance of their action.

The protesters, who referred to themselves as the "Milwaukee Fourteen," said they were "one with the history of mercy and protest."

The action was designed to prevent induction for an estimated 27,000 draft eligibles. Records from four draft boards were taken.

Col. Bently Courtenay, Wisconsin Selective Service director, said inductions will probably not be prevented or delayed by the action.

Four other deaths were reported Tuesday night during hit-and-run clashes involving students, other dissidents, police and soldiers. But these deaths could not be confirmed.

Arbitration of Catholic Row Refused trick Cardinal O'Boyle has rejected a call from representatives of a national Roman Catholic priests group for arbitration in his dispute with local dissenting priests over the birth control issue.

The Rev. Patrick O'Malley of Chicago, president of the unofficial national Federation of Priests Councils whose executive board made the appeal Tuesday, charged Cardinal O'Boyle had dealt with his group "in bad faith."

Cardinal O'Boyle repeated in a statement his contention that he cannot agree to mediation with 44 local priests who have dissented from Pope Paul VI's encyclical on birth control because the dispute involves doctrinal matters.

Fortas Foes Have Votes to Filibuster

By G. C. THELEN JR.
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new Senate count showed today that opponents of Abe Fortas definitely have the votes to keep a filibuster—which may already have started—going against his nomination as chief justice.

The new poll by the Associated Press gave opponents 35 votes, one more than necessary to prevent a move to choke off debate.

The tally was made shortly before preliminary debate on the controversial nomination actually began.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield moved unexpectedly Tuesday night to break off extensive debate on a tax bill and get Fortas' name before the Senate as the next order of business.

His motion ran into an immediate storm and Michigan Republican Robert Griffin, anti-Fortas leader, said it would be discussed "at length."

Another Republican opponent, Strom Thurmond of South Carolina, said he doubted the motion would ever come to a vote—another way of saying a filibuster might already be under way.

"There'll be a lot of speaking" on it, Thurmond said.

Mansfield indicated he wants a showdown on debate-limiting closure no later than the first of the week.

A two-thirds majority of senators voting is needed to invoke closure. If all 100 senators are present, 34 no votes is enough to defeat a closure petition.

If the filibuster against the motion to consider the nomination is choked off, another could be launched against confirmation.

Mansfield's motion to consider may short-circuit any attempt to send the nomination back to the Senate Judiciary Committee or to declare that no vacancy exists on the Supreme Court.

Both steps have been under consideration as possible ways to end the battle.

Trusty Gets 3 Years in Pen Death

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Circuit Court Judge William J. Kirby Tuesday sentenced Bruce McCorley, 34, of Benton to three years in prison for the fatal beating of a Negro prisoner Aug. 2 at the Pulaski County Penitentiary.

The death precipitated three days of racial disturbances in Little Rock.

McCorley, who was a white trusty at the farm at the time, had been charged with voluntary manslaughter in connection with the death of Curtis Ingram Jr., 18, of Little Rock.

The charge was reduced Tuesday to involuntary manslaughter and McCorley pleaded guilty.

Horseshoe Club Firm Dissolved

DERMOTT, Ark. (AP) — An order dissolving the incorporation of the Horseshoe Club at Crossett was signed Tuesday by Circuit Court Judge G.B. Colvin Jr. of Dermott.

The club was raided last month by state Alcoholic Beverage Control Board agents.

A petition seeking the order was presented Colvin by Deputy Prosecutor Ovid Switzer of Crossett.

Kirby ordered McCorley to serve at least a year before becoming eligible for parole.

Restudy of I-30 Access Is Asked

The City Board of Directors at its meeting Tuesday night authorized a request to the State Highway Commission for a restudy of various alternatives to connections with the interchanges on Interstate 30. Also included in the request was that immediate steps be taken to improve existing highway 4 from I-30 to Main Street.

A group of local officials, together with Rep. Talbot Feldt, Jr., and Sen. Olin Hendrix, recently met with Ward Goodman, state highway director, for a discussion of the connections to I-30. Goodman indicated that the Planning Division would restudy their proposal, and that they would like to do some improvements to Highway 4 from the North interchange to the City.

This improvement is urgent, since the section of I-30 West of Hope is scheduled for completion at least two years before the section from Hope to Prescott. This will result in a large part of the traffic on highway 67 being sent through Hope over highway 4. The following is the resolution authorized by the City Board of Directors:

"On behalf of the City of Hope, and with the approval of the City Planning Commission and the City Board of Directors, we respectfully request that, with highway Commission approval, the following be done to relieve the present and long-range traffic problem and in the order requested:

1. Improve existing highway 4 from I-30 into Main Street, to the best two-lane facility possible within the right-of-way available, at the earliest possible time. This is an emergency to provide an immediate connection with I-30 and to take care of industrial developments.
2. Study the need for improvements of Harvey Street (Highway 4) to a four-lane facility with an adequate underpass, to be implemented when funds are available.
3. For future and ultimate solution, restudy the location and design of a second grade separated crossing to include consideration of several routes, both North and South of U.S. 67 on the Eastside of the City.

The City of Hope and the City Planning Commission have exhausted all efforts to have the presently proposed report accepted by the citizens of our City and we make this request as an alternate in order that we may proceed.

The Board of Directors authorized a request to the State Highway Commission to do some improvements on North Harvey Street from the intersection at I-30 to 3rd Street, and on 3rd Street to Main, and for a restudy of the overall traffic plan for connections to Interstate 30. A group of citizens recently met with Mr. Ward Goodman, Director of State Highways, and he indicated that the Planning Committee would come back and restudy several alternate solutions to connections with the interchanges on Interstate 30.

Welfare Director Is Charged

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A

hearing before the state Merit System Council opened here Tuesday on charge against former Yell County Welfare Director Dewel May.

Charges against May are that he put ineligible persons on the welfare rolls and used work experience trainees paid from tax funds to benefit private individuals and officeholders.

May was fired June 21 by state Welfare Director Len E. Blaylock.

Blaylock also charged that May kept inaccurate records and that May served a special probationary period because of dissension in the county department.

All F111A Planes Are Grounded

WASHINGTON (AP) — The

Air Force has grounded all its F111A swinging fighter-bombers — some 90 planes — while investigators probe the cause of the ninth crash in less than two years.

Some critics, including Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., say the crash Monday was only the most recent of a series of difficulties that cast doubt on the variable sweeping's future.

Annexation on November Ballot

The City Board of Directors Tuesday night approved an ordinance which will put a proposed annexation of property North of the City, to include both interchanges on Interstate 30 on the ballot for the General Election Nov. 5th.

The area involved is being served by the City Water and Electric Systems, and with the completion of the interchanges new development is bound to occur. In these areas, several commercial installations are already in the planning stage. The proposed annexation will include some properties North of Avenue B on the West side of town, and will extend the present city limits from the industrial site out to a distance of approximately 1600 feet beyond the Interstate, going East, parallel to the Interstate and back into the present city limits at the Northeast corner of Hope.

The Board approved the appointment of Mitchel LaGrone and Mrs. Albert Graves to the Rose Hill Cemetery Association. Mrs. Graves replaces the late Mrs. Jett Bundy, and will serve as Chairman of the Association. Mitchel LaGrone will replace Mr. Harvey Barr, who plans to retire from the Association.

In other action the Board issued condemnation orders on an old house at 109 East Dairy Street and one at 307 South Edgewood which was recently almost destroyed by a fire.

The Board authorized the City Manager to purchase a mowing machine for the Street Department. The Street Department has been operating with only one mowing machine most of the summer and are way behind mowing street right-of-ways and vacant lots.

An ordinance was passed levying a five (5) mill tax for general operations of the City. It is necessary to do this annually and certify it to the County Tax Assessor before the rolls are made up in order for the City's 5 mill tax to be included on the tax rolls. The Board also accepted a deed to right-of-way for a 50 foot street in Dodd's Addition.

The Board of Directors authorized a request to the State Highway Commission to do some improvements on North Harvey Street from the intersection at I-30 to 3rd Street, and on 3rd Street to Main, and for a restudy of the overall traffic plan for connections to Interstate 30. A group of citizens recently met with Mr. Ward Goodman, Director of State Highways, and he indicated that the Planning Committee would come back and restudy several alternate solutions to connections with the interchanges on Interstate 30.

Hanoi Can't Misjudge Troop Cut

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A key Republican congressman traveling with Richard M. Nixon says a 90,000-man U.S. troop reduction in Vietnam is likely by June—but he says it won't be the kind of "sop to the doves" Democrat Hubert H. Humphrey offers.

"Hanoi mustn't mistake it," Rep. Melvin R. Laird, R-Wis., said Tuesday. "The American people mustn't misread it. And it's time a flailing Humphrey left it alone."

Laird accused Democratic presidential candidate Humphrey—who has predicted an early start on U.S. troop withdrawals—of "dangerous, harmful... confusing and in my view, irresponsible talk."

Nixon later endorsed Laird's statement and said he could see no objection to a reduction that did not involve U.S. ready force strength in Vietnam.

A cut in U.S. combat strength, the GOP presidential candidate said, "before there is clear indication that the enemy is ready to negotiate" would hamper peace talks.

Laird said the troop reduction will be the result of "ordinary and methodical military planning." He said South Vietnam has sharply increased its own draft calls and the need for U.S. construction and support troops has eased.

Laird is a ranking member of the House defense appropriations subcommittee.

In Washington, the White House and Pentagon denied any knowledge of such a plan for U.S. troop reduction.

Humphrey, meanwhile, pressed his challenge to Nixon for a national television debate and said if Nixon has a plan for ending the Vietnam war as claimed he should make it known.

"If he has one," Humphrey told a news conference in Minneapolis, "he owes it to the country to make that plan available."

Humphrey also said his hecklers include some anarchists and many "I don't know what." He said they are highly disciplined and organized and are out to destroy his Democratic campaign and to destroy the country.

Nixon was heckled by peace demonstrators in Seattle but ignored them to tell a crowd that Democrats and independents "by the millions" are going to join Republicans in electing him president.

Third-party candidate George C. Wallace was taking time out from campaigning. Georgia Gov. Lester Maddox said he will be speaking on Wallace's behalf in the next few weeks and added: "I hope I don't hurt him."

Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, the Democratic vice presidential candidate, accused the Republicans of "dredging up bloody images" on the law and order issue and said: "we should not concern ourselves with bloody images but to the causes."

The GOP vice presidential candidate, Spiro T. Agnew, said in Hawaii he would not apologize for calling a reporter "the fat Jap" in a friendly and joking manner. But he said he was truly sorry if any Japanese-Americans interpreted the remark as a slur.

In another political development, veteran Democratic Alaska Sen. Ernest Gruening, who lost his bid for renomination in last month's primary, announced he will seek re-election as a write-in candidate.

Gruening said the state law which forbids write-in efforts by defeated primary contenders will be challenged in court.

John Wayne Film Egged in Lebanon

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Lebanon's Red Berets had to come to the rescue of John Wayne's Green Berets in Beirut Tuesday night.

A riot broke out during the showing of Wayne's movie about the Vietnam war, "The Green Berets" and Beirut's red-capped riot police were called in to quell it.

Spectators threw eggs and ink bottles at the screen, then trooped into the street outside chanting pro-Viet Cong slogans.

A local Communist has asked that the film be banned because it supports American "aggression" in Vietnam. Most local film critics panned the film, calling it childish, elementary and untrue.

Work Bill Support Costs WR

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller said Tuesday that his support of the "right to work" law will cost him the endorsement of labor for the Nov. 5 election.

He said, however, that his labor record and position gave organized labor "every reason to endorse me."

"They might fool me," Rockefeller said. "I'd be grateful for an endorsement."

Rockefeller and his Democratic opponent, Marion Crank of Foreman, will appear Friday before the state AFL-CIO for interviews.

Rockefeller said he was a "partisan article" based on an interview with Barham, to whom he had been directed by Fulbright's Little Rock headquarters after the senator asked him to find out what he could about Bernard.

Mullen said the article was a "partisan article" based on an interview with Barham, to whom he had been directed by Fulbright's Little Rock headquarters after the senator asked him to find out what he could about Bernard.

Purvis said he did not know anything about this, but that Mullen would be the person to confirm or deny it.

Mullen said in a telephone interview with The Associated Press that Fulbright had asked him what he knew about Bernard, adding that Fulbright told him he knew little about Bernard.

Mullen described himself and Barham as "all-out Fulbright supporters," and said the article asserted "just the facts about Bernard's inexperience in politics."

Climmer also quoted Mullen as saying, "I'm for Mr. Fulbright and I did it (the article) to try to help him." Mullen confirmed this remark when interviewed by the AP.

Climmer said the article was "a real insult to the people of Earle and the people of Arkansas."

Climmer said Barham swore out a warrant for Bernard's arrest in 1966 during a hassle at a precinct during the general election. Bernard and an election official reportedly argued when Bernard charged that an irregularity was taking place in the polling place.

It is evident, Climmer said, that Fulbright was "campaigning in the old guard fashion of character assassination" and not on the issues.

Climmer said he had a petition signed by more than 200 Earle citizens complaining about the article.

He said reprints of the article were available at Fulbright's office, and he said Fulbright was "attempting to influence journalism" by complaining that stories regarding Bernard's campaign were too large.

So far, Hanoi has insisted on an unconditional halt in U.S. bombing, which for nearly five months has been restricted by President Johnson to the lower 25 per cent of North Vietnam.

Administration spokesmen have never been very specific about the reciprocity expected from Hanoi before the bombing can be ended.

But top ranking American military leaders are specific in private conversation about what conditions would make a bombing halt acceptable to them.

It is quite clear that U.S. military leaders want actions that show tangible and measurable results.

Therefore, they do not put much stress on winning agreement from North Vietnam to halt or curtail infiltration in general. They know it would take months to verify whether North Vietnam was winking on an agreement to end infiltration.

But they believe it would be very easy to detect North Viet-nam's violations of agreements to neutralize the DMZ.

Accuses Fulbright of 'Plant'

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Jerry Climer, chairman of Charles Bernard's U.S. Senate campaign, said Tuesday that a "distorted story" printed in the Osceola Times was arranged by Sen. J.W. Fulbright's staff.

Climmer said the article was circulated last week at the Democratic State Convention before the weekly newspaper at Osceola was delivered to the citizens of Earle, Bernard's hometown.

The article, written by Phil Mullen, centered on an interview with Eugene J. Barham Jr., a farmer and businessman at Earle. It quoted Barham as saying, "I am not against Charles T. Bernard for personal reasons, but I am against the entire Republican party in Arkansas, as it is now operated."

Climmer said the article was attempting to cast Bernard "as a nobody."

Hoyt Purvis, Fulbright's press aide, said that to his knowledge the Fulbright organization had nothing to do with the article or the distribution of copies of it.

"It's not our story," Purvis said. "It came out of a weekly in that section of the country."

Fulbright told The Associated Press Tuesday night that he didn't pressure Mullen into writing the article. He said he had asked Mullen and several of his friends what they knew of Bernard.

"They only question is whether it (the article) is true," Fulbright said.

Mullen said the article was a "partisan article" based on an interview with Barham, to whom he had been directed by Fulbright's Little Rock headquarters after the senator asked him to find out what he could about Bernard.

Climmer said Mullen, editor of the newspaper, told him that Fulbright had told him to interview Barham.

Purvis said he did not know anything about this, but that Mullen would be the person to confirm or deny it.

Mullen said in a telephone interview with The Associated Press that Fulbright had asked him what he knew about Bernard, adding that Fulbright told him he knew little about Bernard.

3 Levels Set on Prices of Gas

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Power Commission imposed today a three-level system of ceiling prices for natural gas produced in southern Louisiana, the nation's largest natural gas field.

The FPC estimated its decision would mean rate reductions totaling some $49 million a year.

The Southern Louisiana area produces 31 per cent of all natural gas sold interstate. Its gas is used in 28 states and the District of Columbia, an area including more than 70 per cent of the nation's population.

It was the FPC's second decision setting prices for an entire area and comes on the heels of Supreme Court approval of its historic Permian Basin ruling.

As in the Permian Basin case, the FPC set one price for "old" gas contracted before Jan. 1, 1961—and a higher price for "new" gas, contracted after this date.

But in a new departure, it also set a still higher price on future gas, sold under contracts dated Oct. 1, 1968, or later.

These ceiling prices on old, new and future gas were fixed at 18.5 cents per thousand cubic feet, 19.5 cents and 20 cents, respectively.

Gas derived from oil wells or as residue after removal of liquids was included under the old-gas price. And gas not subject to the Louisiana production tax was priced 1.5 cents lower in each category.

The FPC nailed down its price ceilings much harder than in the Permian decision. They are to remain in effect, it said, until it decides to change them. A rate change can be made only through a formal rulemaking procedure.

U.S. Military Goods Feed Black Mart

By BARRY KRAMER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — The director of South Vietnamese customs said today about $120 million worth of goods from American military post exchanges wound up on the black market last year.

Gen. Duong Thieu Sinh told the official government news agency this was equivalent in value to all commercial goods imported into Vietnam in 1967. He said Vietnamese and American officials were taking drastic measures to cut such diversion of PX goods.

Sinh apparently was talking both about goods stolen from the PX system and goods resold on the black market by allied troops who have PX privileges.

PX officials recently disclosed that since 1966, when the present Vietnamese post exchange system was set up, goods valued at $38 million have been lost—about 60 per cent to thieves.

From February 1967 to January of this year, the loss totaled $19.1 million, the PX officials said. Thus the other $100 million in Sinh's estimate must come from the illegal resale of PX goods. Sinh is the first official estimate of the extent of such illegal resales.

"We have no control over an individual after he walks out of the store," a PX official said recently. "If he sells it, there is nothing we can do."

Some American soldiers are known to sell goods to Vietnamese. But Thai, Filipino and South Korean troops in Vietnam—who all have full PX privileges—have gained the reputation of being PX profiteers because they often are seen buying large quantities of items very popular on the black market.

Stringent security since last

October has cut theft of PX goods. PX sales records have been computerized and strict accounting is made of purchases of items such as tape recorders, radios and other consumer goods highly salable on the black market. The government also has kept the most notorious black market areas in Saigon closed.

But black marketers simply switched to selling goods out of boxes with which they can flee at the approach of police.

Financial Crisis Near for Prisons

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The chairman of the state Board of Correction said Tuesday that the state prisons still face a financial crisis even though prospects for this year's prison crop are so good.

John Haley of Little Rock said the board expects to have $1 million available by the end of November.

Haley said that due to the fiscal crisis, the number of paid prison personnel has dropped from 104 three months ago to 86 because the board didn't have the money to fill the vacancies.

Haley said inmates are working 10 to 12 hours a day getting from work done, whereas last year they were working eight hours a day. The increased hours have been caused by a shortage of prisoner manpower.

Haley, however, declined to attribute the prisoner shortage to the number of paroles being given. He said convicts were being given light sentences and were eligible for parole sooner.

TAKE STEPS TO KEEP STAIRS FIRM AND FREE OF SQUEAKS

By MR. FIX

Squeaks in a stairway are annoying. They also may be an indication that wear and tear are starting to take their toll. Taking care of the annoying squeaks will take care as well of potentially dangerous situations.

A stairway consists of treads, the horizontal part you step on; stringers, which are the sides and are clearly visible in basement stair construction but which will be masked as part of the woodwork elsewhere; and risers, the vertical boards at right angles to the treads.

Squeaks come about from friction between tread and riser. Friction results as construction begins to loosen with wear and age.

Drive pairs of finishing nails at angles through the tread and into the riser. Have someone stand on the tread to force it down while you make the repair.

Sometimes the riser fits into a joint on the underside of the tread. Thin, wood wedges, coated with glue, can be driven into the joint to tighten it. This joint is sometimes covered with molding which will have to be removed and then put back after the repair is made.

When nailing, drive the nails below the surface. Use a nail set to get the nail head down and then fill with plastic wood.

Treads, if not protected with a cover (rubber, linoleum, carpeting, etc.), will become worn at the edge. In time this may splinter and break off. Chisel out a recess where the wood is worn and replace with a piece of hardwood. Glue it in place and plane it flush with the rest of the tread. Round the edge so that the contour is the same. Then finish it to match.

If a tread is damaged to the extent that it cannot be repaired, remove it and make another. Use the old tread as a pattern for the new. Reassemble with wood screws for greater strength.

Handrails are fastened to the wall with metal brackets. Wall brackets may become loose because screws were not run into the studs. Remove the brackets and replace the screws with anchor bolts, toggle bolts or some combination of anchor and screw so that the screw is not in plaster alone. An outside handrail (away from the wall) is held in place by a post at its base and supported by balusters (smaller posts) throughout its length. A loose handrail can be traced to a loose post. Run long wood screws through the base of the post and into the stringer to draw it up tight. Countersink the screws and fill with plastic wood. Loose balusters should be glued and nailed to make them more secure.

Coolness to Humphrey May Cost

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., says Arkansas' coolness toward the Democratic presidential ticket has dimmed the state's chances of claiming a federal model cities grant or any other "plums" this year.

McClellan made the statement Monday and mentioned an incident at the recent State Democratic Convention where pictures of Vice President Hubert Humphrey, the Democratic presidential nominee, and his running mate, Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine, were not on display.

McClellan also said the present national fiscal picture would greatly retard the ultimate application of a federal model cities grant should the state be fortunate enough to receive one of the 70 to be handed out.

He said, however, that he did not consider the model cities program the ultimate answer to the problems of the poor.

"We can get them better housing, but that's not going to solve anything," he said. "What we need to do is move them into areas where there are industries so they can find jobs."

Seek Way Out on Fortas

CHICAGO (AP) — The Senate will be offered a plan to avoid a long battle over the nomination of Abe Fortas as chief justice by declaring that no vacancy exists on the Supreme Court as long as Chief Justice Earl Warren remains on the bench, the Chicago Tribune said today.

Details of the parliamentary maneuver which would remove the controversy from further consideration this year were learned Monday night, the Tribune said in a copyright story from its Washington bureau.

Senate leaders predicted the proposal would attract majority support, the Tribune story said.

In sum, it said, the plan would be in the form of a resolution with the judgment that "it is the sense of the Senate that no vacancy exists on the Supreme Court to be filled by Fortas or any other nominee as long as Chief Justice Earl Warren remains in active service."

The White House has been acquainted with the proposal, the Tribune said, and President Johnson was described as "wary" about it.

The story said, however, that

Paul A. Porter of the law firm of Arnold & Porter, former law firm of Justice Fortas, had conferred with Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill., minority leader, on the resolution's implications. There were indications that Fortas might greet such a resolution with relief, the Tribune report added.

Approval of the resolution by the Senate would remove the necessity of voting on Johnson's nomination of Fortas to succeed Warren and would leave Warren in his seat as chief justice when the court reconvenes Oct. 7, the story said.

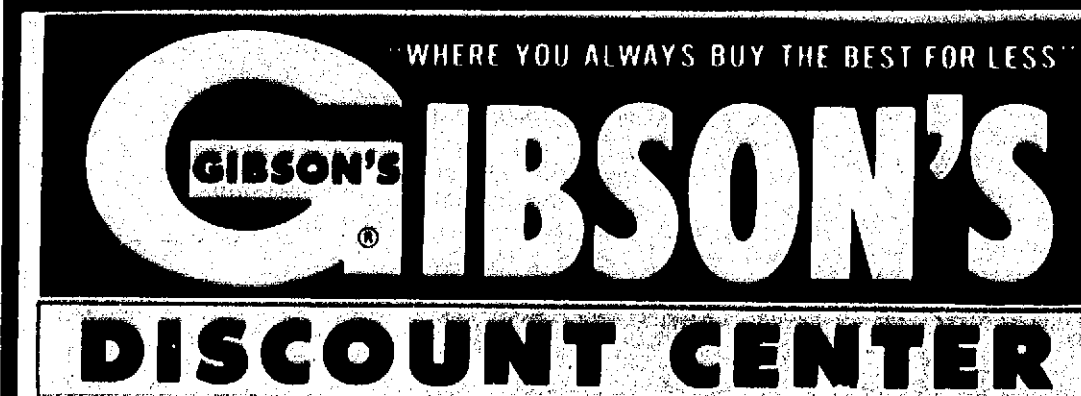

Warren has said his conditional resignation of June 13 would not take effect if Fortas had not

Wednesday, September 25, 1968 been confirmed by the Senate when the court begins its new term.

A finding by the senate that no Supreme Court vacancy existed would probably be followed by withdrawal of Warren's resignation and of the Fortas nomination, the Tribune reported unnamed senators as saying.

ACCIDENTS AD INFINITUM: 10.8 billion persons suffered disabling injuries in accidents last year. 4.3 million occurred at home. 53,100 people died on the highways involving 44,500 accidents and 64,500 vehicles. (Over 100 million cars are registered.) Alcohol is indicated to be a factor in half of the total fatal accidents. Almost one-third of all fatal accidents involved excessive speed.

WORM IN APPLE: The Beatles' latest business venture, "Apple Boutique," closed with a flourish. The Beatles Boutique apparently didn't appeal to the Carnaby kids, or perhaps there are too many similar establishments around. At any rate the Beatles did it up right and gave away the $36,000 worth of inventory. Is it the beginning of the end for Carnaby Street or the early demise of the Beatles' mystique? Their new release, "Revolution," is stirring new attention.

SNIFLES CAN BE FATAL: Widespread concern over lethal consequences of deliberate inhalation of vapors. Aerosols used in this manner responsible for 14 deaths this year. Started with cocktail glass "chiller" products and has now spread to fluorocarbon propellants and refrigerants. Experts trying to establish actual cause of the deaths. In a series of trials no harm may result. But on the next "trip" ... that's all! It's a version of Russian roulette. Everyone should be alerted to the stupidity of such experimentation.

TEEN DIET ILLS EXAGGERATED: Older teens tend to have poorer diets than younger ones. Teen girls likely to be poorest-fed member of family. No real study currently available to document habits to prove the case for "nutritional disaster" claimed by so many "authorities." U.S. Department of Agriculture says "not so." They further say: "Breakfast is a key. Don't skip it. There is nothing wrong with hamburgers and hot dogs if supplemented with coleslaw, tomatoes, fruit juice and milkshakes." The foundations of the "establishment" must be shaking at this proclamation by Dr. Ruth Leverton, assistant deputy administrator of the Research Service of the U.S.D.A.

Comedian Jars Crank Meeting

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Marion H. Crank, the Democratic gubernatorial nominee, attacked a campaign magazine for Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller at a $25-a-plate dinner honoring Crank Tuesday night. But the smooth delivery of Crank's speech was marred somewhat by the act of a comedian Crank supporters imported from Sterling, Ill., to entertain the 450 guests. Crank, brandishing a copy of the Rockefeller campaign literature, called it "an excellent magazine ... written by men who know their business" whose purpose was "to create a proper image for a governor who already should have a proper image."

Reading excerpts from the magazine, Crank added his own replies. To a sentence in the magazine that referred to the many "new faces" in state government, Crank replied, "I'll say three are. There are so many new faces that people like me who have been there for years don't even recognize them, because they're not even from Arkansas."

Another phrase from the magazine said Rockefeller had set "a new style" in state government. Crank retorted that the "style" was one of "absenteeism and abject confusion." Crank warned against taking the contents of the publication lightly and encouraged the partisan audience to discuss it with their friends in order to dispel "the half-truths, in muendoes and, in many cases, outright lies that are reported in this finely written book."

Entertainment for the dinner came in the form of Wayne Dennis, who appears on Illinois television as "Dennis Slowfoot, the walking delegate." Dennis made references about Rockefeller's drinking and made a statement questioning the governor's manhood.

The audience, apparently taken back by Dennis' performance, awarded him only polite applause as he left the ballroom.

State Sen. Oscar Alagood of Little Rock, who introduced Dennis, said, "If I had known what that so-called comedian was going to say, I never would have introduced him." Alagood said he didn't know who arranged for Dennis to appear on the program or who furnished the out-of-state performer with material about the governor.

Later Tuesday night, Alagood issued a prepared statement in which he apologized "to the governor and to everyone else concerned for the uncalled-for remarks and low comedy used by a man reputed to be a comedian. Before Dennis' appearance, Alagood referred to the governor by defining "political machine." Alagood said the term machine should apply more readily to the Rockefeller office than to the Democrats because a machine was, by Alagood's definition, "a well-oiled mechanism."

Muskie in Shots at Wallace
PITTSBURGH (AP)— Sen. Edmund S. Muskie is running hard against third-party candidate George C. Wallace in western Pennsylvania mill towns, which have been described as Wallace strongholds.

Three times Tuesday, the Democratic vice presidential candidate took aim at Wallace, telling audiences that a vote for the former Alabama governor would split the country.

"A vote for Mr. Wallace is a pure and simple protest which would be a vote to divide America and a vote for the risk of greater war involvement," Muskie told crowds at Greensburg and McKeesport.

"Mr. Wallace has said," declared Muskie, "that the only way to win the war is with maximum use of military power, which involves the possible consequence of a head-on collision with Red China and even nuclear war."

Muskie said he and vice president Hubert H. Humphrey both believe the war must be ended quickly, adding, "but we believe that the only way to end it is by a negotiated settlement."

Noting Wallace signs in the Greensburg audience estimated at 2,000, Muskie said, "one thing is true. One of two men will be president, Vice President Humphrey or Mr. Nixon."

At Charleston, W. Va., Muskie said the Democratic party is not campaigning on a replay of the Johnson administration, but is looking ahead to the next four years.

"We're campaigning to serve the country from January, 1969 to January 1973," the Democratic vice presidential candidate said.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Modern Drugs Effective New Disease Treatment

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Those who believe there is nothing we need less than a new disease can count me as one of their number. Nevertheless, several new ones have cropped up in recent years, possibly to replace some of those that are apparently headed for extinction. The latest in this procession will, until a shorter name can be coined, be known as the M. kansasii disease. It is caused by Mycobacterium kansasii, an organism first isolated in Kansas that is similar to the tubercle bacillus (Mycobacterium tuberculosis).

The new disease has now been reported in many states. The exact mode of its spread has not been established but it is apparently related to the consumption of unpasteurized dairy products. Like tuberculosis, the disease settles in the lungs, causes symptoms characteristic of tuberculosis and may be fatal.

The modern drugs used to treat tuberculosis have proved effective against the new disease. Persons with severe involvement may have to have part of a lung removed. In any case, the treatment is best carried out in a hospital and, when started early enough, complete recovery in five or six months is the rule.

Q—I have a friend, 45, who has narcolepsy. None of the drugs his doctor has given him has helped. He is now taking Dexamy. Are there any drugs that would help him?

A—Several drugs have proved helpful to persons who get this sudden uncontrollable desire to sleep. These include pentyleneetetrazole with niacin and glutamic acid (Niapent) and methamphetamine (Desoxyn). Both are prescription drugs.

Q—What are the first signs of a nervous breakdown?

A—A so-called nervous breakdown is closely related to profound depression. The first symptoms are inability to concentrate or to make simple everyday decisions such as what to wear and what to eat. This is followed by a loss of interest in one's surroundings and in the things one ordinarily does for pleasure. If you have these symptoms, it is important to rule out a chronic low-grade infection, anemia and thyroid or adrenal deficiency. If these are not contributing factors, a change of emotional climate is advisable.

Czechs Spar to Get Red Troops Out

By GENE KRAMER
Associated Press Writer

PRAGUE (AP)— Czechoslovakia's Communist leaders were today reported trying to use Moscow's desire for an international Communist congress as a lever to speed up the departure of Soviet occupation forces.

With a preparatory meeting scheduled this week in Budapest to determine if it is possible to go ahead with a higher level Communist gathering in Moscow, the attitude of the Czechoslovak party could have considerable influence with the West European parties which generally condemned the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia.

Prague radio and television on Tuesday played up a French Communist party recommendation that the meeting not be held.

Czechoslovak sources said a top-level meeting with the Soviets in Moscow is still needed to ratify the plans for the troop pullout although the Russians have agreed in principle to withdraw all but about 100,000 of the estimated 500,000 soldiers who marched into Czechoslovakia five weeks ago.

Tentative dates for Dubcek and Cernik to take a party-government delegation to Moscow have been cancelled several times since last week. The last such cancellation was Tuesday, and the Czechoslovak Embassy in Moscow said it expected Dubcek the latter part of this week.

As the price of the troop withdrawal, the Russians are reportedly demanding the dismissal of certain officials and tighter censorship.

Nevada Co. Road Job to Be Let

LITTLE ROCK (AP)— The Arkansas Highway Commission today opened bids totaling $5.6 million on nine highway construction jobs, but announced that a freeze of federal funds earlier this month prevented opening on two other jobs.

The commission also announced that there would be no bid opening in October because of the freeze on funds.

McGeorge Contracting Co. Inc. of Pine Bluff and Barber Bridge Builders Inc. of Fort Smith submitted the apparent low bid of $2,490,961 jointly for the construction of structures and the grading of Interstate 40 in Franklin County from Lone Elm to the junction with Arkansas 23.

The other jobs, by county: CRITTENDEN— Surfacing .3 miles and construction of a slab span bridge on Arkansas 42 between Arkansas 118 and Interstate 55; J. A. Hadley Construction Co., Humoldt, Tenn., $180,053.

WOODRUFF— Surfacing of .3 miles and construction of a slab span bridge and construction of drainage structures at 22 locations along 16.5 miles of Arkansas 17 north from Cotton Plant; John M. Smith, Little Rock, $125,106.

NEVADA— Grading of .76 miles of Interstate 30 and construction of the interchange of the route with Arkansas 19 northwest of Prescott; Reynolds & Williams Inc., Little Rock, $963,138.

SEBASTIAN— Grading and surfacing 4.85 miles of U.S. 71, including an I-beam bridge, with work starting 1.7 miles north of Witcherville and continuing to near the existing U.S. 71 junction; D. B. Hill Contractor, Little Rock, $1,387,465.

Harriman Raps Reds at Peace Table

PARIS (AP)— The United States has no intention of breaking off the peace talks with North Vietnam, U.S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman said today. He added that Hanoi also has given no indication of wanting to stop talking.

The chief U.S. delegate to the 20-week-old discussions met again today with North Vietnamese Ambassador Xuan Thuy for the conference's 23rd session.

As Harriman arrived for the session, newsmen asked him about suggestions that the conference be recessed until a new American president is installed in January.
